THE SOAP

ALL NATURAL & NEARLY NATURAL SOAPS

The soaps are imbued with farm fresh ingredients from local farmers. This includes honey and beeswax raised in local apiaries. You'll find local ingredients in over 95% of the soaps we create.

When we use the term NEARLY NATURAL it refers to the addition of phthalate/paraben-free fragrance oil. The soaps containing fragrance oil are made with sandalwood fragrance oil, harvested from the 40-year old heartwood of the sandalwood tree. This process is eco-friendly and superior to non-sustainable essential oils found in other soaps. The color found in the soap is all natural and derived from the mineral pigments, oxides, clays and micas. Earth Luxe soaps enable you to make a mindful decision about your skin care. MADE IN THE USA. ♦♦

SEA BREEZE
Dune grasses are waving in the wind and dancing with the sea spray while soft floral scents of sage, musk and bergamot lend a spicy warmth to the salty seaside air.

ORCHARD
Branches are cloaked in delicate buds that have begun to open with the promise of plump crisp apples. Floating like a cloud on the breeze, the scent of the blossoms in the orchard is intoxicating to bees and humans alike.

RAIN
The soft rain has awakened the fresh scent of the lush, dew kissed forest. Orchids and hibiscus add a sweet floral note to spruce and fir boughs dripping with clean fresh water.

ISLAND
As the citrus groves warm themselves in the southern sun, the heat lifts the fragrance into the air where it mingles with nearby palm trees. Then drifting down to the sand, the sweet, clean scent refreshes the island breeze.

VINEYARD
As the sunrise sends its first rays over the fields, the leaves glisten with dew and the ripe fruit infuses the air with berry fresh flavor. The aroma is so full bodied that you can almost taste it.

DESERT AIR
The spicy warmth of the dry wind is intensified by the red of the cliffs and the clear, blue skies. There is an undercurrent of leather, musk and sagebrush that rises from the hills to greet the adventurous traveler.

MOUNTAIN
Wisps of campfire smoke are carried on this mountain breeze, through the pines and over the lichen covered rocks. Amber, musk and earthy notes highlight the clean scent of mountain air.

GLACIER
One deep breath of icy crisp, cool air over open water can clear the mind, rejuvenate the senses and affirm the belief that this is quite possibly the freshest air on earth.

FRESH WATER
A thousand shades of blue move through clear waves acting like a mirror to earth's beautiful skies. The crisp air, with notes of forest and driftwood, reflects the light, natural scent of fresh water lapping against rocky shores.

RED WOOD
Where the treetops open to the sky, the sunlight warms the mist floating in lofty branches. Cedar bark, rich earth, and fresh pine permeate the air and trunk formations create a sanctuary for the senses.

LEAVES
The wind through the branches blends the sun filled air with the scent of maple leaves and the smokey aroma of wood fires bringing the unforgettable.

GARDEN
Garden paths wind their way through fluttering petals as the breeze absorbs the heady perfume of flowers in full bloom. It is a bouquet of scents so lovely that you are convinced that this must be what heaven smells like.
